Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 05 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Further rain this morning. Becoming drier, brighter later this afternoon.

Today:
It will continue cloudy this morning and into the early afternoon with some patchy rain. Drier weather coming along this afternoon and brightening up from the south with just a few showers. Light winds. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly dry over Down and Antrim with clear periods, A cloudier night further west with scattered showers continuing, most of them over Fermanagh. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tuesday:
Mainly dry, bright start in the east. Otherwise a rather cloudy day with showers developing in many areas, some heavy in the afternoon. Light northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Showers becoming fewer and lighter on Wednesday then mainly dry on Thursday with some sunshine. Dry, bright much of Friday but rain may return to western areas later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.